

A close-up photograph of a tree trunk showing severe damage. The outer bark is heavily peeling and missing in large sections, revealing a lighter-colored, fibrous inner wood. The remaining bark is fragmented and hanging in strips. The base of the trunk is surrounded by green grass and some fallen leaves.