

Antilope, Nashorn, Wildesel: Vor 25 Jahren wurde im Zoo die SAMBESI-LANDSCHAFT eröffnet. Eine Erweiterung ist geplant.

A scenic view of a river or lake with a small boat carrying people, surrounded by rustic wooden buildings and lush greenery. The boat is blue with a white canopy and is filled with people. The background features several wooden houses with thatched roofs and a large, gnarled tree trunk in the foreground.

A giraffe stands in a sandy enclosure, reaching up to eat from a wire basket of hay that hangs from a wooden structure. Several visitors, including a child in a blue cap and a woman in a pink shirt, are seen from behind, looking on from a wooden platform. The background shows a dirt path and some trees.

A wide-angle photograph of a construction site for a large water feature. In the background, a tall, multi-tiered structure made of yellowish-brown material (possibly sand or plaster) is under construction, with a ladder leaning against it. Several workers in dark clothing are visible near the base of this structure. In the foreground, a large, irregularly shaped concrete or stone base is being prepared, with a wooden platform and scaffolding nearby. A body of water, possibly a pond or a large pool, is visible in the lower right, reflecting the surrounding trees and sky. The ground is muddy and covered with construction debris, including wooden planks and metal rods. The overall scene depicts a large-scale landscaping or construction project in a wooded area.
